IN THE SOCIAL WORLD.

OF ACTIVITY.

A NOTEWORTHY LIST OF WEDDINGS, PAST AND TO COME-NEW CLUBS FORMED-PER-

affairs of social interest-several weddings, two dances and other functions serving to keep up an active interest in things pertaining to the lighter side of life. The coming week will, however, far surpass it, as members of the various social sets will be called on to attend the third of the cotillons given at the home of Abbot L. Dow on Trees day, the third Assembly at the Germania Assembly day, the third Assembly at the Germania Assembly Rooms on Wednerlay, and on Friday will come the third Cinderella Dance and the Leap Year and St. Valentine's Ball at the Pouch Gillery. In addition to these there is the wedding of Miss Jessle dition to these there is the wedding of Miss Jessle Scott Dike and Ir. George Clinton Farchild Williams, of Hartford, which takes place at the Church ams, of Hartford, which takes place at the Church of the Pilgrims on Wedneslay, to say nothing of a number of teas and minor entertainments scattered through the week.

return of the Rev. Arthur B. Kinsolving, who went down to Richmond for his bride, the wedding being celebrated on Wednesday at noon in St. Paul's Church, in the Virginia capital. On the ceturn of the couple to Brooklyn there will, it is aid, be a reception given in their honor by Mr. aid, be Alexander E. Orr, Mr. Orr having been vestryman of the church for some years.

people is that of the engagement of Miss Lillian Talmage, daughter of Dr. John P. Talmage, to J Murray Mitchell, of New-York. Miss Talmage, alugh not in society this season, is too well known to Heights circles to need an introduction, and the bridegroom-elect, who was one of the ushers at the Carhart-Brookman wedding, is a prominent yachtsman and well known in social circles in New-York. His brother, Edward Mitchell, was United States District-Attorney under President Arthur, and J. Murray Mitchell himself has been prominent in reform movements in the city on the other side of the river.

The decorations were an unusually effective combination of palms and white blossoms. The bride was attended as maid bridegroom, and Miss R. M. Taylor and Miss Martha R. Pearson were bridesmaids. Frederick L. Smith. R. Pearson were bridesmaids: Frederick I. Smith, brother of the bride, was best man, and the ushers were C. M. Smith, brother of the bride: Charles F. Krug and Frederick Cocheu. The bride's gown was of lvory white satin, with trimming of pearl passementeric and rare old lace, the latter a gift from her grandmother. A spray of lilles of the valley held in place a long tulle vell. Her bouquet was of bride roses and lilles of the valley. The ceremony was attended only by relatives and intimate friends and was followed by a reception. Numerous gifts were received. On their return from a tour to Niagara and Canada Mr. and Mrs. Lilly will live in Decatur-st.

The first recention of the Entre Nous was held on Wednesday evening at the home of the secre was a success. The society is composed of young women who have organized for social purposes and it is the intention of the members to monthly reunions, to which invitations will be exdrawing-room were the words "Entre Nous" in roses, surrounded by a frame of smilax. There were vocal selections by Messrs. Cook and Lassen, and dancing brought the evening to a close. The officers of the Entre Nous are: President, Mrs. Kenward Philip; secretary, Miss May Nevins; treasurer, Miss Ada M. Daly, Among those present were Miss Libbie Daly, Miss Ada Daly, E. L. The regular monthly meeting of the Froebel Society was held at the Academy on Monday night, the entertainment being furnished by the Literary Committee, of which Mrs. Mary B. Branch is chairman, Mrs. George W. Schaumberg read an interesting account of her early life in Concord,

A charming incident of the week was Mr. and Edward H. Litchfield's dinner party on Monday evening in celebration of their silver wedding. The guests numbered fourteen, and the appoint ments were exquisite. Each guest received a souvenir box of bonbons in the shape of a heart entwined with true lover's knots. A number of beautiful gifts in silver were received by the host and hostess.

Seamans, William Coonly, Frank D. Tuttle, John R. Sutton, William F. Fuller, John L. Burleigh, A. F. Beals and Henry C. Wells.

NEW RIDING ATTRACTIONS.

The Riding and Driving Club will assemble or Wednesday evening to witness a series of attrac-tions arranged by its entertainment committee. The rough riding class will give an exhibition, and the ure of the club's third monthly reception to be held on February 25 will be the appearance of fifty troopers from Squadron A, of New-York

The annual full-dress ride of the Bedford Riding Clab on Thursday evening proved no less successful than its predecessors. The ingenuity of the enter-tainment committee was well shown in the novel features introduced. The egg-race between several of the women members followed the opening quadrille. Mrs. F. B. Creamer showed the greatest skill rile. Mrs. F. B. Creamer showed the greatest skill in carrying an egg around the rink in a spoon while her horse cut up all sorts of capers. In the pump-kin race, F. D. Creamer clearly demonstrated to the satisfaction of the judges his superior ability in handling the cumbersome vegetable. Supper and dancing followed the exhibition in the tanbark ring. UNION LEAGUE AND CONSOLIDATION.

The attempt of George W. Chauncey to put the Union League Club on record as favoring consolidation by a big majority has stirred a small-sized hornets' nest in that organization. It has been said by some that Mr. Chauncey's failure to find more than 117 consolidationists out of the club's thousand members points to a conclusion diametrically posite to Mr. Chauncey's deduction. At any rate, in authorized poll of the members has been taken, and good Republicans and it difficult to believe that the crack Republican club is really favorable to the union of the cities.

DR. HALL OFFERS TO HELP.

Z. Taylor Emery. Commissioner of Health, re-ceived yesterday a letter from the Rev. Dr. Charle Cuthbert Hall, in which he recalls the statement made by him at the Municipal Conference in Granada Hall, when he said that Brooklyn had no hos pital for contagious diseases except the "pesthouse." In this letter he says that from further information he has learned that the changes made in the Kings-ton Avenua Hospital for Contagious Diseasea, under the direction of Dr. Emery, had changed it from a "pesthouse" into a hospital, with all of the available comforts. He also says that this hospi-tal ought to be better known, and pays a high tribute to Dr. Emery. In closing he often to help the work on by any private benevolences that may come into his hands for such purposes.

FOR NAMES OF HONOR.

THOSE TO GO ON THE INSTITUTE MU-SEUM ARE NOW BEING CONSIDERED.

REGARDING THE CHARACTER OF THE STATUES.

The Board of Trustees of the Brooklyn Institute held a meeting on Friday afternoon, at which sev-eral interesting subjects were discussed. Professor Franklin W. Hooper reported on the work on the Museum Building on Prospect Heights. He said that the work was progressing rapidly, and that the architects have now reached a place where they require directions regarding two important features of the building-the selection of names for the the statues for the façade of the building.

The big northern portico will open to the art collection, the southern portico to the scientific collection, the eastern portico to the hall of philosophy, and the western portico to the hall of the practical and mechanical arts. On each portico seven names will be inscribed, and the choice of the names has been carefully considered by Professor Hooper and his co-workers. Dr. charles Ellot Norton, of Harvard University, has been asked for his opinion as to the selection of the names for the art portico, and his suggestions are as follows: Michael Angelo, for architecture; Phidias, for sculpture; Beethoven, The big northern portico will open to the art colfor architecture; Phidias, for sculpture; for music, and Shakespeare, Homer and Dante, for poetry. The name of Raphael for painting has been added by the committee. The names suggested for science are Euclid, Copernicus, Gailleo, New- THE EXECUTIVE AND HIS CABINET ENTER-been added by the committee. The names suggested for science are Euclid. Copernicus, Galileo, Newton, Berzelius, Cuvier and Darwin; for philosophy, Plato, Arirtotle, Spinoza, Leibnitz, Locke, Kant and Hegel. For the portico leading to the hall of the practical and mechanical arts, the names of Columbus, Gutenberg, Stephenson, Watt, Franklin, Morse and Edison are suggested.

Professor Hooper in his report vecommends that the statues to be placed on the pedistals surmounting the columns and pilasters represent as nearly as practicable the names of the famous men cut in the frieze. The committee which made the selections of names consisted of Professor William H. Goodycar, Professor Brainerd Kellogg and Professor Hooper, assisted as to the classical names by Professor William Cranston Lawton, Professor George M. Wicher and Dr. Edward S. Hawes. The final selection was left to a committee of the trustees, including the Rev. Dr. Storrs, the Rev. C. R. Baker, R. R. Howker and Professor Hooper.

Augustus St. Gandens, and Danlel C. French, the famous sculptors, were made honorary members of the institute by vote of the Board. Mrs. Charles H. Hall. The entire collection of specimens, represented to the institute at the last meeting was the gift of her husband, the late Rev. Dr. Charles H. Hall. The entire collection of specimens, representing no small amount of labor by Dr. Hall, has been stamped with the name of the donor. William Potts, of Farmington, Conn., sent in his resignation as a member of the Board on account of his permanent removal from Brooklyn. Dr. Storrs nominated the Rev. Edward W. McCarty, rector of St. Augustine's Roman Catholic Church, for the vacant trusteeship. Ex-Mayor Boody and Mr. Bowker seconded the nomination, and the election was unanimous.

Every church, temperance or other organization "that believes in the honest enforcement of law" "that believes in the honest enforcement of law" has been requested to appoint three delegates to attend the meeting and protest against the "sham enforcement of the Sunday law in this city—that of closing the front doors and leaving open the side doors." In two-minute speeches delegates will be asked to explain the desires of the people they represent. Reports by watchers will be made of saloons found open, and of children found therein. Additional reports will be made by the committee watching the "100,000 postal-cards being sent to the Mayor through the means of the saloons to urge the Mayor to keep the side doors open." Judge Groo and others will speak briefly.

MAYOR WURSTER GREETED.

TAINED BY THE MONTAUK CLUB.

Mayor Wurster and the members of his cabinet were entertained last evening by the members of the Montauk Cub, who turned out nearly three hundred strong to do them honor. Mayor Wurster has already attended many dinners since his election, but he has attended none where he received a more cordial we come. The big parlors on the third floor would not hold the crowd of diners, and an overflow meeting was held in the "jolly room" on the floor above. When Charles A. Moore, president of the club; Mayor Wurster and ex-Mayor Boody appeared on a brief visit in the "jolly room" they were straightway initiated and called upon for speeches, which were reluctantly but aptly made. Later the other members of the cabinet and ex Governor Lounsbury, of Connecticut, and ex-Mayor Schleren were put through the same process, and made loyal members of the "Noisy Club." impromptu speeches made there were no less opportune than those given later by the same men n the room below.

The following were among those in the assemlabge: Warner Miller, ex-Governor Lounsbury, Mayor Wurster, ex-Mayor Schieren, ex-Mayor Boody, Police Commissioner L. R. Welles, Tax Col-lector R. ANOTHER ROUTE TO THE SEA.

BROOKLYN UNION ELEVATED TRAINS TO CONNECT WITH LONG ISLAND TRACKS. The Brooklyn Union Elevated Railroad has made arrangements with the Long Island Railroad Company to run elevated through trains from the Brooklyn Bridge to West Brighton, Coney Island. The connection between the elevated structure and the Long Island company's tracks at the Union Station, at Thirty-sixth-st, and Fifth-ave., was made during 1895, when the elevated trains were run to Manhattan Beach. This connection will be used in the operation of the new route, and workputting in additional switch tracks and improving the yard in view of the extra accommodations which the new route will have to provide for. However, the route could be started to-morrow, if necessary, as the yard at the Coney Island end o the line is large enough to accommodate all the when he controlled the line, is large enough to ac-tend the new route directly from the Brooklyn Bridge, making all stops as far as Twenty-fifth-st, whence the trains will be run on express schedule. Possibly the trains may make a stop at Parkville, at the junction of the Long Island system, but it is the desire of President Uhlmann to run directly through if possible. During the racing season stops will be made at Kings Highway and the grand-stand entrance to the Brooklyn Jockey Club track, and extra trains will be put on for the benefit of racegoers. The management intends to put on twice the number of Coney Island trains run last season, and to alternate them between Manhattan Beach and West Erighton. It is expected that the running time along the new route from the Brooklyn Bridge to the Island will be between thirty and thirty-five minutes.

President Uhlmann said yesterday that his com-
